

Charmaine Clamor Fact Sheet

Charmaine has given command performances for the President of the Philippines, the U.S. State Department, and both country's Embassies.

Charmaine is only Filipina – and the only jazz singer – on the David Byrne/Fatboy Slim concept album about the life of Imelda Marcos, “Here Lies Love” (Nonesuch; 2010), with Cyndi Lauper, Tori Amos, Natalie Merchant and other indie-rock luminaries.

Charmaine is the first and only Filipina vocalist to make the JazzWeek World (16 weeks, peaking at #2 ranking) and Traditional Jazz (#4) radio charts with the same album simultaneously. (Flippin' Out; 2007)

Charmaine is the first and only Filipina artist to place three consecutive albums in the top-20 of the JazzWeek World Music radio chart.

Charmaine is the first jazz artist to release an album (Flippin' Out) that synthesizes the soul and swing of American jazz with traditional Filipino folk music, languages and instruments -- a hybrid she calls jazzipino.

Charmaine is the first Filipino woman to record an entire album of traditional “male” love serenades. (My Harana; 2008).

Charmaine is the first and only jazz artist to be signed to Manila's largest pop label, Viva Records, which inked her to a multi-year deal in 2009.

Charmaine appears regularly on international television, performing on ABS-CBN, the leading Filipino TV network. Charmaine's music videos appear on Myx, the leading Asian-American music television channel.

Charmaine's YouTube videos have produced more than 200,000 views.

Charmaine is the co-founder of JazzPhil-USA, a nonprofit organization that promotes jazz artists of Filipino heritage.

Charmaine was the 2009 Filipinas Magazine Entertainer of the Year.